Chapter 1 by Cora

Dear reader,

If you find this letter, then you are the chosen one. Whatever task you may encounter in this house in the future, can only be done only by YOU. If you dare to put this letter down to where you found it, bad things will rain upon you. You will not runaway and will not tell a single soul about this letter.

The blue house has eyes everywhere. From the moment you put hands on this letter, you will not get out until all the task is done.

sincerely,

the Blue Ghost

I found this letter, under a broken piece of ceramic in my new house. As the letter says, in the "Blue house". I just moved from the country to the city, where my mother found her new job as a nurse. My younger twin brothers and my older brother stayed with my father, half an hour away. My father drinks every time he's feeling depressed and my older brother has to take care of him as well as the twins. My mother on the other hand, is a very organized person. She thinks about what she eats and never smoke or drink. She works in the hospital after all.

Anyway, I told mother about the bad feelings I had when we moved to the city. Other than the feelings that I'm not going to meet any decent friend in high-school, I also have this dark feeling about "the blue house".

I went home from school a day after I found the letter, and found that my mother has left me a decent dinner, which was the famous vegetarian pizza from the market. I sat in front of the TV and eat the pizza until I'm full.

When I went to wash my hands, I

being whistled an unknow

every time I thought I got wooden floor and dusty windows. It was empty.

I walked across the room and the only sound I heard was the tapping of my shoes. Then it started to rain outside. I was going back to the door, when I finally heard the whistle again. Then suddenly, out of nowhere, a dark figure stood upon me.
